I. SUMMARY OF THE 2014-2016 IMC MANDATE

The 2014-2016 period has been dense of challenges, events and activities for the Mediterranean Regions of the CPMR in an interdependent and changing context at all levels, socio-economic, geopolitics etc. Therefore, IMC regions had the hard task to keep cooperating, while facing several difficulties\(^1\) and developing their planned activities, trying to react to these challenges in a positive way, exploiting their strengths and potential thorough networking, exchange and capitalization of experiences and actions at advocacy level.

In this complex framework, the Intermediterranean Commission – as a whole with its members - has developed its global action plan 2014-2016\(^2\) (approved in the first IMC Political Bureau held in Marseille at the end of 2014) under the guidance of its two presidencies. In particular, the Regions PACA, with Mr. Michel Vauzelle, elected in Umea's Plenary in September 2014 and Rabat-Salé-Kénitra, with Mr. Mohamed Sadiki, elected Vice-president in Umea and carrying the pro-tempore presidency from January 2016 until June 2016. The action plan, in connection with the previous mandate, included strategic and sectoral priorities. The strategic ones have been focused on four main themes: promoting the emergence of macro-regional and sea basin strategies in the Mediterranean; pushing the Mediterranean into the global and EU agendas; promoting effective cooperation projects, mobilizing the southern partners; encouraging dialogue between civil societies to promote a Mediterranean citizenship.

The sectoral ones concern thematic aspects for the integrated territorial and maritime development of Regions in the Mediterranean and have been dealt mainly through the current four IMC Working Groups, each one co-ordinated by a tandem of our most active regions. The action plans of the renewed WGs ("Economic & Social Cohesion", "Territorial Cooperation and MRRs", "Water & Energy", "Transport & Maritime Integrated Policies") are the result of the exercise of merging of the previous existing groups, approved by the Political Bureau in 2014 and the GA, in 2015. All the IMC activities have been developed in constant coordination and synergy with the CPMR global priorities, giving a special attention to the most important themes or topics related to the Mediterranean.

Several advocacy and lobbying activities towards EU and national institutions have been conducted for instance concerning: territorial cooperation and the emerging strategies in the Mediterranean (with a specific attention on the Adriatic-Ionian and Western Mediterranean space but in a long term integrated perspective); cohesion, neighbourhood and decentralisation; the integrated maritime policy; transports; efficiency energy, water and climate; migration; among others themes (including encounters with EC commissioners, MEPs, high officers of the EC, UfM or the Council, CoR and Arlem Members etc.)

Migration issues in particular entered strongly in the agenda of activities of the IMC and the CPMR starting from 2014, based on the suggestion of our Commission, that has been trying to react quickly to the humanitarian tragedies, and most pressing urgencies of the territories. The IMC thus participated to all strategic advocacy and technical activities of the new CPMR Task force on Migration, providing its specific vision and experiences and launched an awareness and solidarity campaign: “We are all Mediterranean”.

Besides several political debates on the major topics concerning the Mediterranean challenges and joint solutions took place in Marseille, Nafplio, Rome producing road maps and political documents that have been widely disseminated to all relevant targets.

\(^1\) e.g. migration issues and their impacts on the ground, terrorism attacks and consequences of conflicts in the Mediterranean, political turnover and elections, effect of economic crisis, evolution of EU and Euromed Policies...
The IMC during this biannual mandate also developed several relevant EU Projects as MarinA-Med COM&CAP that contributed to the work towards a maritime integrated approach and the capitalization of 13 Med Interreg projects on themes like: environmental pressures, drivers and trends in the basin, promotion of maritime clusters, blue energies, smart ports and air pollution related to maritime transport, sustainable and fishing tourism etc. This project with its many capitalization and dissemination events (8) that gathered hundreds of different stakeholders in a single year (often organized back to back with IMC statutory events), was the perfect example on how to combine project and lobbying dimension in a multilevel governance and multi-actor frame, opening clear opportunities for further cooperation in the maritime field.

Several other projects proposals were developed. Moreover, in the last part of 2015 and first of 2016 the IMC and its regions concentrated their efforts on the preparation and support of many (21) new EU project proposal for the following EU programmes: Med Interreg (Modular and Horizontals), ADRION Interreg, Blue careers (EASME-DG MARE), DAER (Europeaid), AMIF (DG Home) etc. The IMC participated mainly as partner and residually as associate or potential sub-contractor.

Many IMC regions participated directly (often leading the projects) and all the members will be involved through the IMC CPMR in case of approval. These projects, that represent all together a demand of more than 20 Million euros for the involved consortia, are conceived as a “win win” cooperation with the EU cooperation programmes and the IMC CPMR, as they propose activities in line with both their priorities and our global and sectoral working group plans. Most of the projects, if selected, will start between the end of 2016 and the beginning of 2017. A full report on the new proposals and future perspectives can be consulted on the IMC web site.

What is also important to note is that the IMC acted also as a catalyster and disseminator of more than 50 proposals arising from its regions or external partners, searching for the most appropriate counterparts in order to set up solid consortia (without counting necessarily with the direct involvement of the IMC itself). Towards the future, the IMC is trying to involve more and more the territorial players of the southern and eastern rim of the Mediterranean both in projects and in its network as full members. This is clear in the frame of the initiatives concerning capacity building and territorial integrated development linked to Platforma and the neighborhood south or the project ideas under conception for future ENI CBC Med or Europeaid calls.

Last but not least, and beyond project based cooperation, the IMC was very present in the EU and EUROMED scene, participating in lots of transnational events and coordinating with its wide network of external partners. In particular, defining and implementing partnerships and memorandum of understandings with important organizations such as: the Union for the Mediterranean and the ARLEM, The Center for Mediterranean Integration, Med Cities, Arco Latino, the Mediterranean Commission of UCLG, MED PAN, ASCAME, UNIMED and many others Universities and Centers of Research. In this frame it is to note as good example of cooperation, the inclusion of the CPMR as permanent observer in the UfM Working Group on Blue Economy which was approved by the States in 2016 and will amplify the opportunities of cooperation in marine and maritime fields at basin level.

In the following pages, we have included more details about the IMC activities per type and Working Group, from September 2014 to June 2016 and future perspectives. The IMC CPMR Secretariat warmly thanks all the IMC Presidencies, the Working Groups Co-Presidencies and Task force leaders, as well as all the member regions that contributed to the successful actions of the organization. We will keep working hard in order to improve our efficiency and influence in the Mediterranean basin.
